

Ciaran Fahey – Station Manager

‘Hey everyone! I’m Ciaran and I’m hoping to be your new Station Manager for 2020/2021, so it means a lot to me if you take the time to read this!’

About Me

Last year I took over the role as Head of Tech from Edd. This role was a great learning experience for me to understand how our servers and systems work here at Shock Radio which taught me a lot more about basic coding and what errors to look out for when we have system issues.

Due to the difficult year we had regarding building damage, I also had to rebuild the whole station twice which gave me a great deal of knowledge on how our station actually works. I took it upon myself during this situation to teach and train a group of my tech team and I hope to continue this by running more skill workshops with the Head of Tech next year on studio set up.

If you choose me as your Station Manager, I want to make it a year to remember. We’ve had such a stressful year that I think what our society needs most at the moment is to really try and put the fun back into our love for radio whether that be through more regular socials that help us get to know each other.

I want to organise more charity events as a society as I know so many people are passionate about raising money and sadly our chance to do that this year was taken away from us. I also want to put some TLC in our studios whether it be working on our branding and just giving our studios a “make-over” to properly give ourselves a fresh start in the new year.

Shock has been a big part of my university experience the last two years. Hopefully, as your station manager I want to make my last one at shock memorable.

Manifesto

- I currently own the Wednesday Drivetime slot where I'm trying to improve my presentation skills.
- If you’re worried about proof of my dedication, I once spent 18 hours in Shock trying to fix a complete system failure.
- I’ve had work experience at Capital Fm which gave me experience in the industry.
- I am naturally very skilled with technology and understand the servers we own. I will make sure to learn even more and become the Station Manager that Shock will need.
- I hope to work with the committee to improve our socials to make our Society a closer unit, improve our online to have more visual content and work with news so that we have regular updates on our news page.
- I want to improve the levels of communication within our society as I know some people felt ‘out of the loop’ as such this year and I don’t want anyone to feel like that next year.
- I want to bring in some new updates to our equipment such as better chairs (as too many of our current ones have broken), better pop shields as our current ones are tearing and just a better aesthetic for the studio.
- Lastly, I want to make sure next year we all make some memories that the society will remember for years to come.

Thank you for Reading and I hope you give me your trust in this AGM!!
