

WILLIAM LUNDY
HEAD OF TECHNICAL OPERATIONS

About Me:

I am a 1st year TV and Radio student and joined Shock at the beginning of my time at Salford. I am passionate about radio and hope to develop my skills whilst at the university and as a member of shock both on and off air. I am a committed member and have not missed a show unless it was an issue with the studio that was out of my control. It has been good to get the experience with Shock but would now like to progress on to the committee and take my skills further.

I have also tried to represent shock whenever I could turn up to socials to meet other members and turned up to events along with fellow shock members including REC night.

So far, I have enjoyed my time at Shock and am looking forward to returning to the studios.

Experience:

I spent a lot of this year working with Ciaran and other members of the committee developing my technical skills and knowledge of the studios allowing me to have good experience for if I get this role. I have learnt how the studios and servers are set up so if I get this role you can have faith, I am able to fulfil the role to a high standard.

Before university I got a lot of technical experience which I can bring forward to this role.

Future:

Going forward I would like to be a part of making Shock even bigger. I can do a lot of this behind the scenes ensuring all members of Shock are running properly. I am an avid member of the society so will ensure I am always around when needed. I also want to make sure everyone gets the enjoyment and experience out of Shock that I have from my first year here and being on the technical side and a member of committee I believe I can help with this

I want to thank you for reading over my manifesto and I hope I have secured your vote!
